FOREWORD

"REDBIRDS IN THE AIR AGE"

Lots of Luck
Stella Sereneu

A new era is upon us. Distant places are no longer a matter of miles, but of "air-hours." We are living in an air age.

As Redbirds here at San Bernardino High School we must think and act in accordance with this revolutionary change. No longer can we let petty prejudices, intolerance, or outmoded habits detain us. We are on wing. . . .

Dear Beth:
Here's wishing lots of luck to a

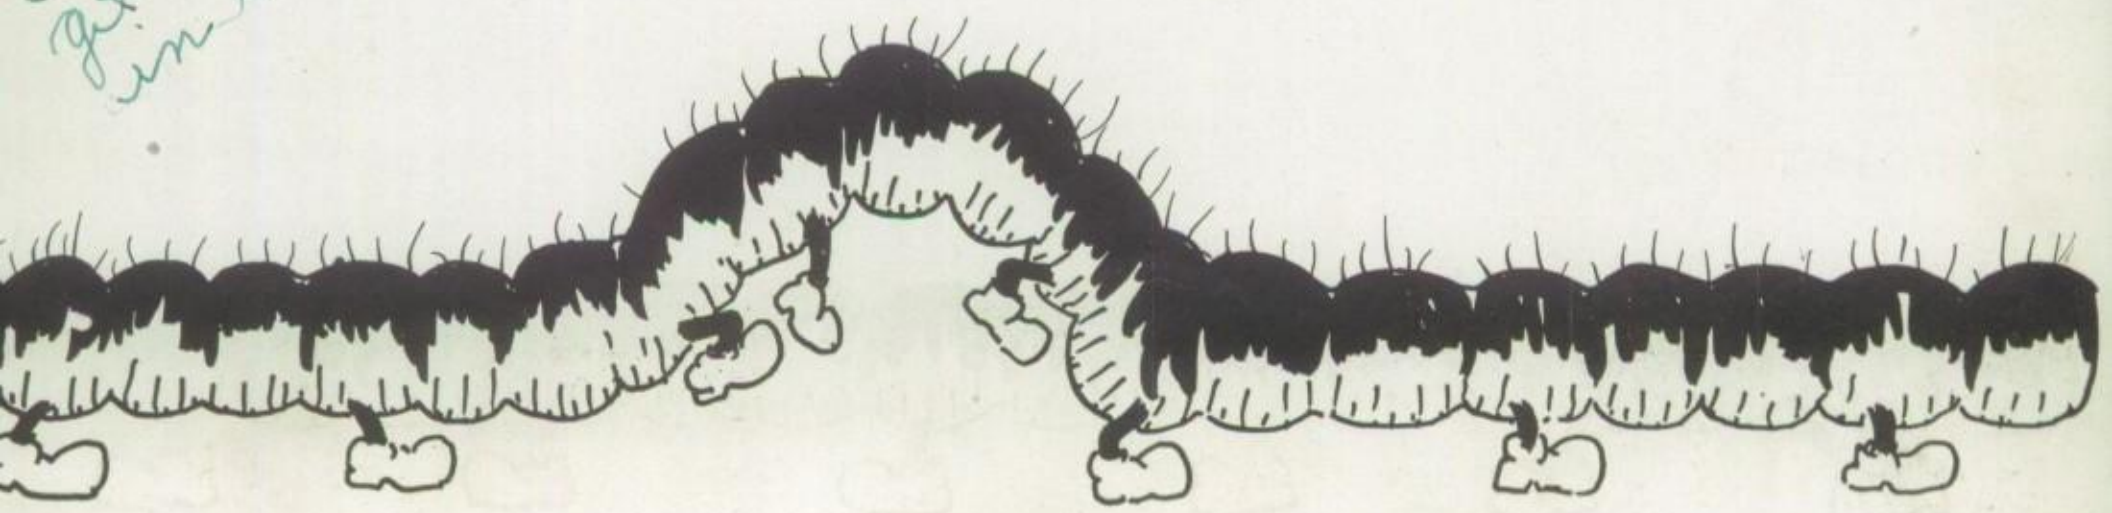
DEDICATION

For smooth flight into the unbounded future, we, the Tyro Annual Staff of 1947, dedicate this volume . . . . . To people on wing.



IN MEMORIAM

In memory of those who died
not in vain,
that we might advance to heights yet unknown. They too are on the wing. . . .

INSTRUCTING S.B.H.S.

Instructing cadets through basic training here at San Bernardino High School, Elizabeth Dimock and her able assistants, Olive Dodson, Marie Lindblom, Ilza Van Etten, Bill (baseball fan) Weeks, and Amy Jane (foster mother of Trigger) Steinberg made history wake up and live. Max Kipf, who represented California this year at the National F.F.A. convention, and his assistant, Howard Betts, coached our Future Farmers. Lola Bottini and Elsie Meier brieted us in nouns, verbs, and "lit," along with Henrietta Holland, when she wasn't being "one of the guys on the grind" as Tyro Annual adviser. Ione Norton, Elsie Hazelwood, and Ruth Randall guided "estudiantes" and "discipuli" through the mazes of foreign language.

CADETS THROUGH

Bessie Taylor, Sallie McKesson, Helen Gleason, and Quincy Brown advanced advocates of the "hunt and peck" system to the status of typists, while Edith Griswold proved to her classes that English is most necessary in business. Tom Cooper taught bookkeeping along with Bill Wilkes and Frank Hessner, who doubled respectively in history and biology on the side, and Beth Leonard's duty was the instruction of office practice. Prudence Nicholas' favorite phrase was, "And now on the board, girls . . . gay, go, good," which she uttered to strictly female short-handers. Proof of the accomplishments of the Commercial Department is the many efficient secretaries who are graduates of S.B.H.S.

BASIC TRAINING

Redbirds could draw! At least S.B.H.S. Redbirds learned to be pigment pitchers under the sheltering wings of Winnifred Johnson and Hester Leaverton. As Johnny Redbird stumbled and fell over the rough spots of English, he was picked up and sent on his way by Ruth Colman, Nell Hanf, and Mary Hubbard. Ruby Stahlford, Lillian Reid, and Teresia Laughead did their best to have S.B.H.S. the alma mater of several good homemakers. Virgiline Mulvane taught better health for better living in the sophomore hygiene classes; Bill Welch not only kept order in study hall, but also advanced our knowledge of business arithmetic; and Leora Walker helped us in the study of biology.

FACULTY MEMBERS

E. C. "Turtle" Cline and George "Pop" Rankins guided students through the mazes of algebra, while Forrest "The Lookout" Keck trained the physics "Brains." Edward Page and C. C. Turnbow explained the value of atomic structures, and Virgil "Pre-Flight" Leonard, Earl Mitchell, and "Fundy" Funderburg taught the fundamentals of math. In the language department Blanche Preston drilled cadets in foreign languages, while Josiphine Vaughn, Blanche Markey, and Alton Poole trained our future biologists. Our school nurse, Ruth Chilquist, proved a friend in need to all ailing Redbirds.

GUIDED AIR - AGE

In the gym Winnefred Poss, Maxine Glass, Catherine Livingston, and Nadine Purgson were strict about putting us through our "daily dozens," but also proved "human" sponsors of various organizations. "On, you Cardinals" was the fight song of the coaches, Simpson, Hodge, Stancer, Fawley, and Johnson. "Joker" Hammond, of the shop department, short-circuited fundamentals of electric shop, while Joe Van Koevering directed his type-setters in turning out any printed matter needed by the school. Instructing other vocational shop courses were Max McMillan, Harry Boettcher, Ray Poppett, "Shep" Sheppard, Rea Smith, Lee Walton, and Fay Tinker, who was also sponsor of THE CLASS OF "47."

REDBIRDS TO SOLO

Eleanor Kyle and her assistant, Mada Montgomery, maintained an up-to-date library for air-minded students, and Esther Fuller, Ella Brown, Kathryn Williams, and Dorothy Doolittle created a new kind of English course—interesting! Appreciation of drama was stressed in Verna Brown's drama classes, while Frank Julett coached the winged Patrick Henrys. "Mac" McCrackin taught geometry, and Herman Johnson and Martha Alice Mackenzie brought music into our everyday lives. Elaine Wilson and "Kris" Lackner did their part as Mr. Hall's assistants, and Ruth Myers faithfully kept our financial affairs in order. Ruth Filkins and her capable assistant, Frances Carson, did a fine job as attendance clerks, with the assistance of J. P. Colley in study hall. Unconventional as it is to have instructors pass in review, here they are in bird's-eye view.

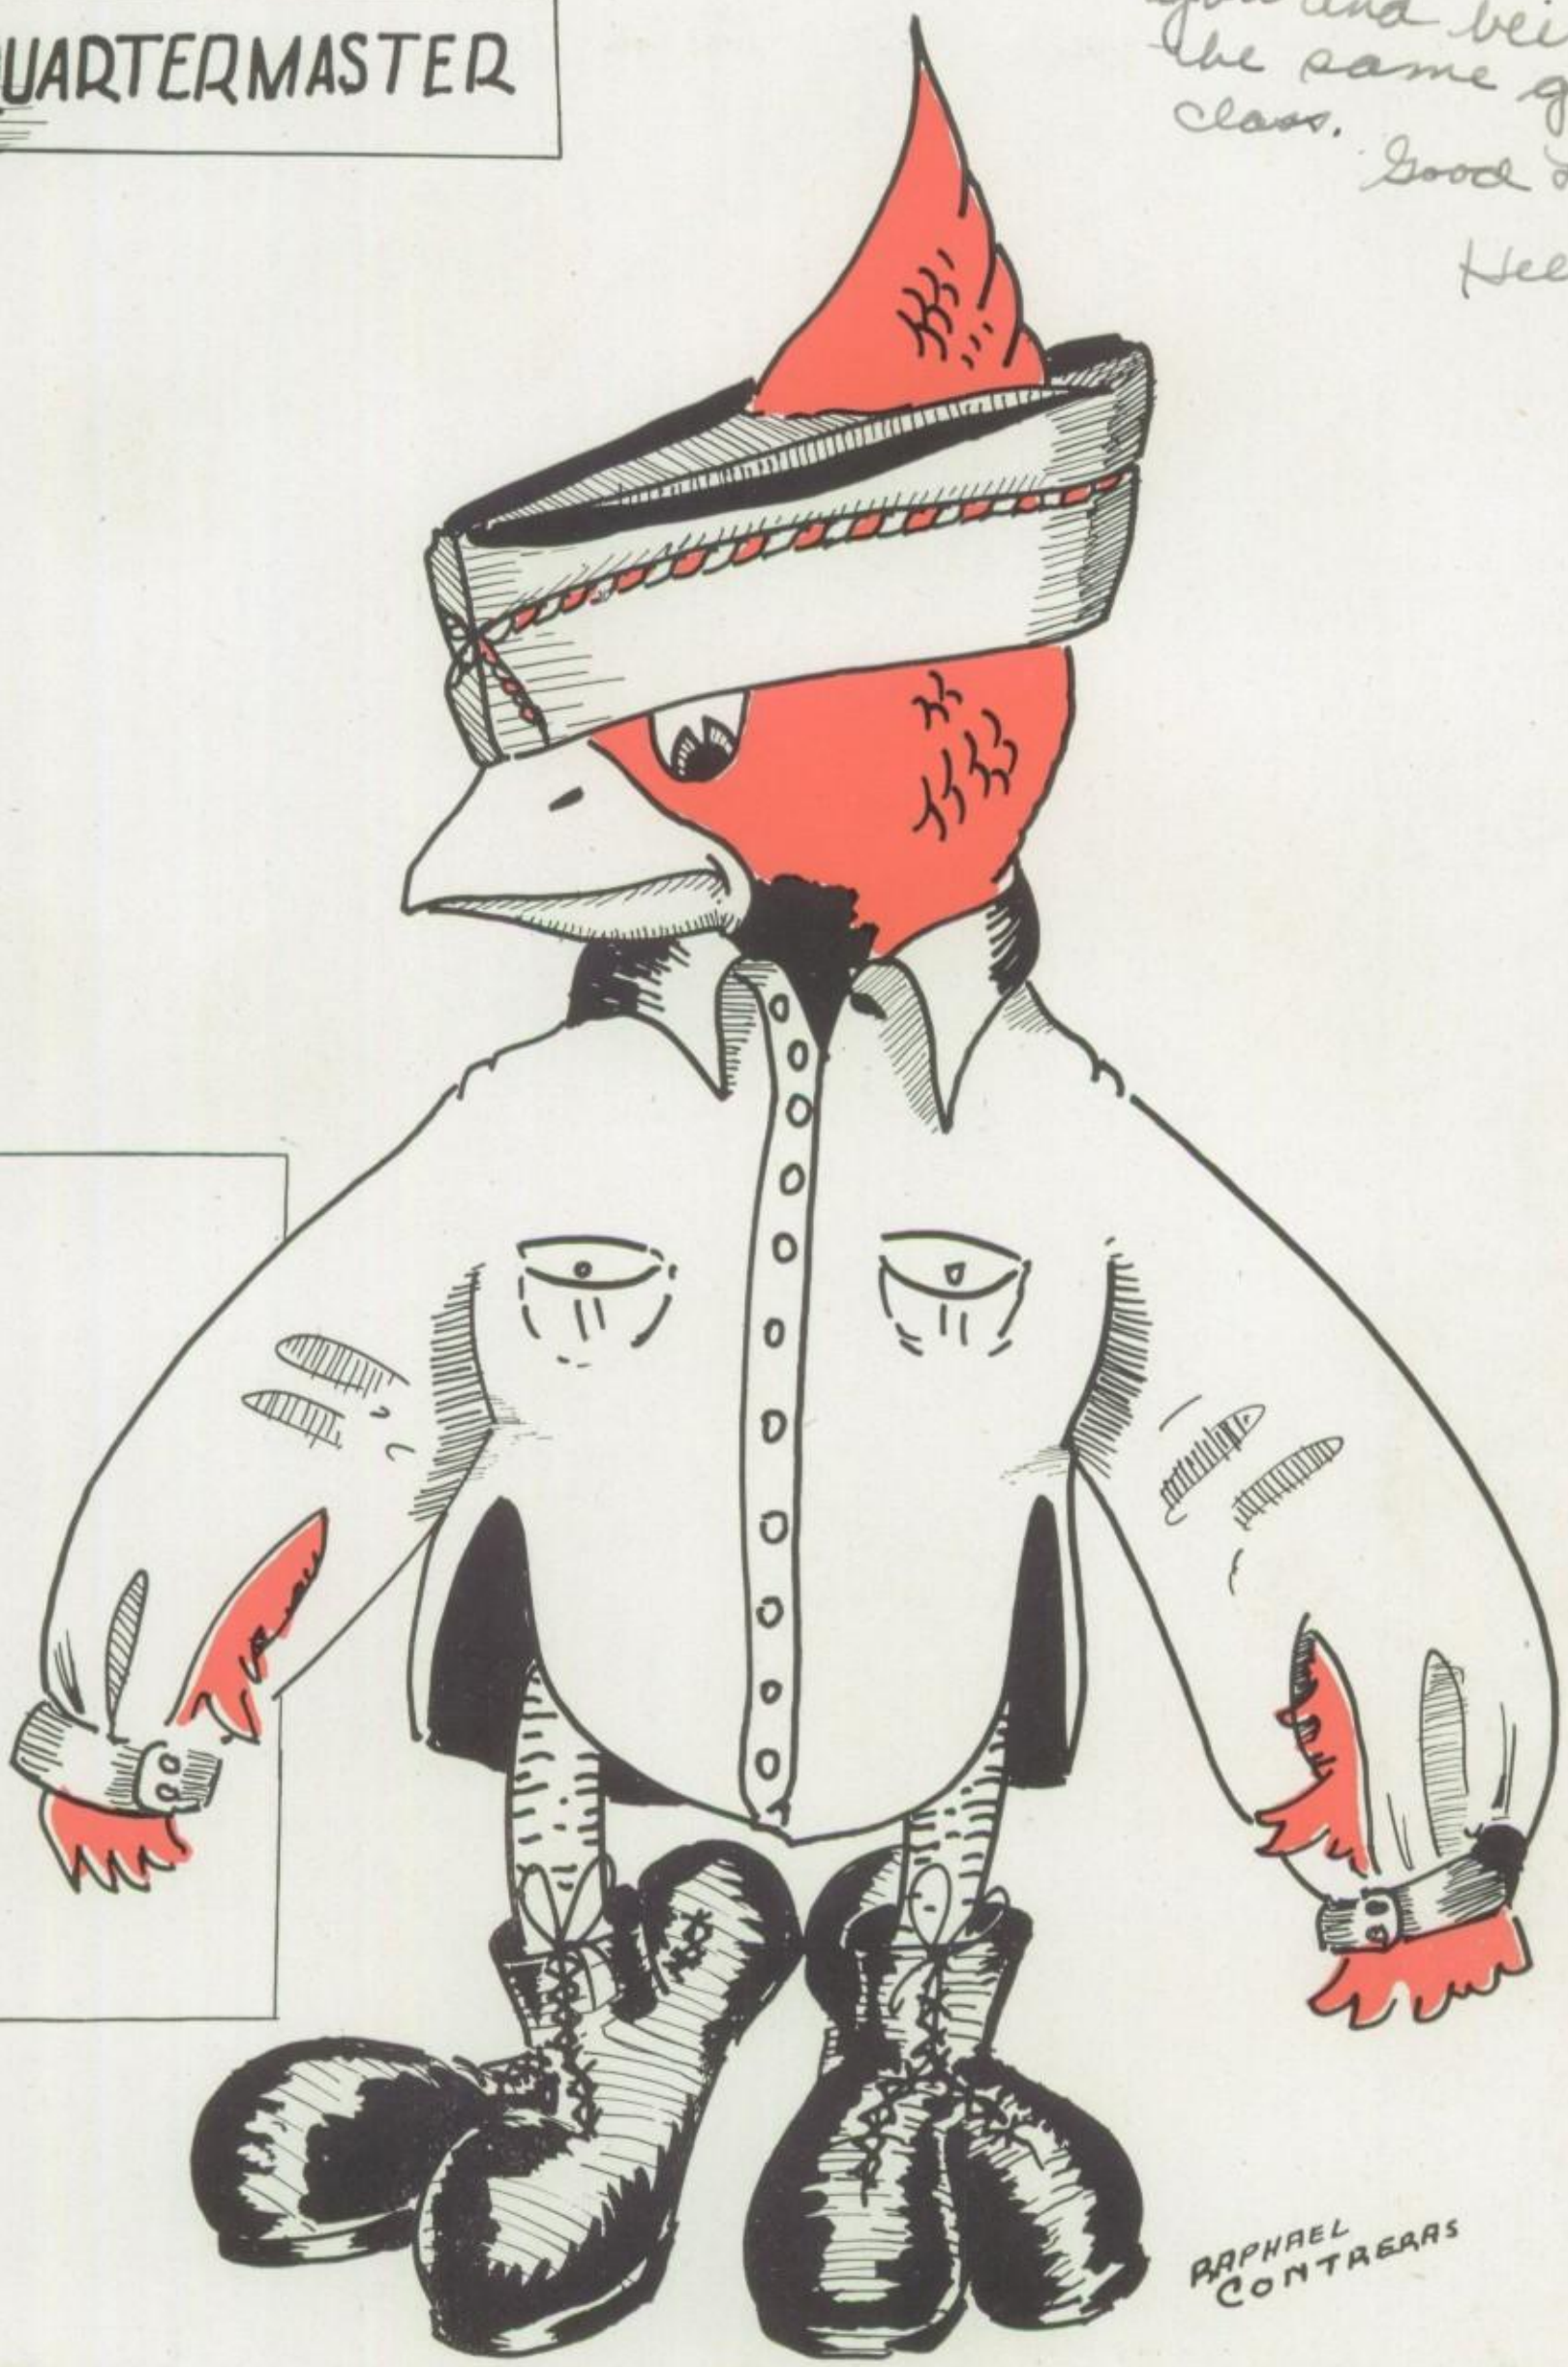
To Beth,

Kid I sure have enjoyed knowing you and being in the same gym class.

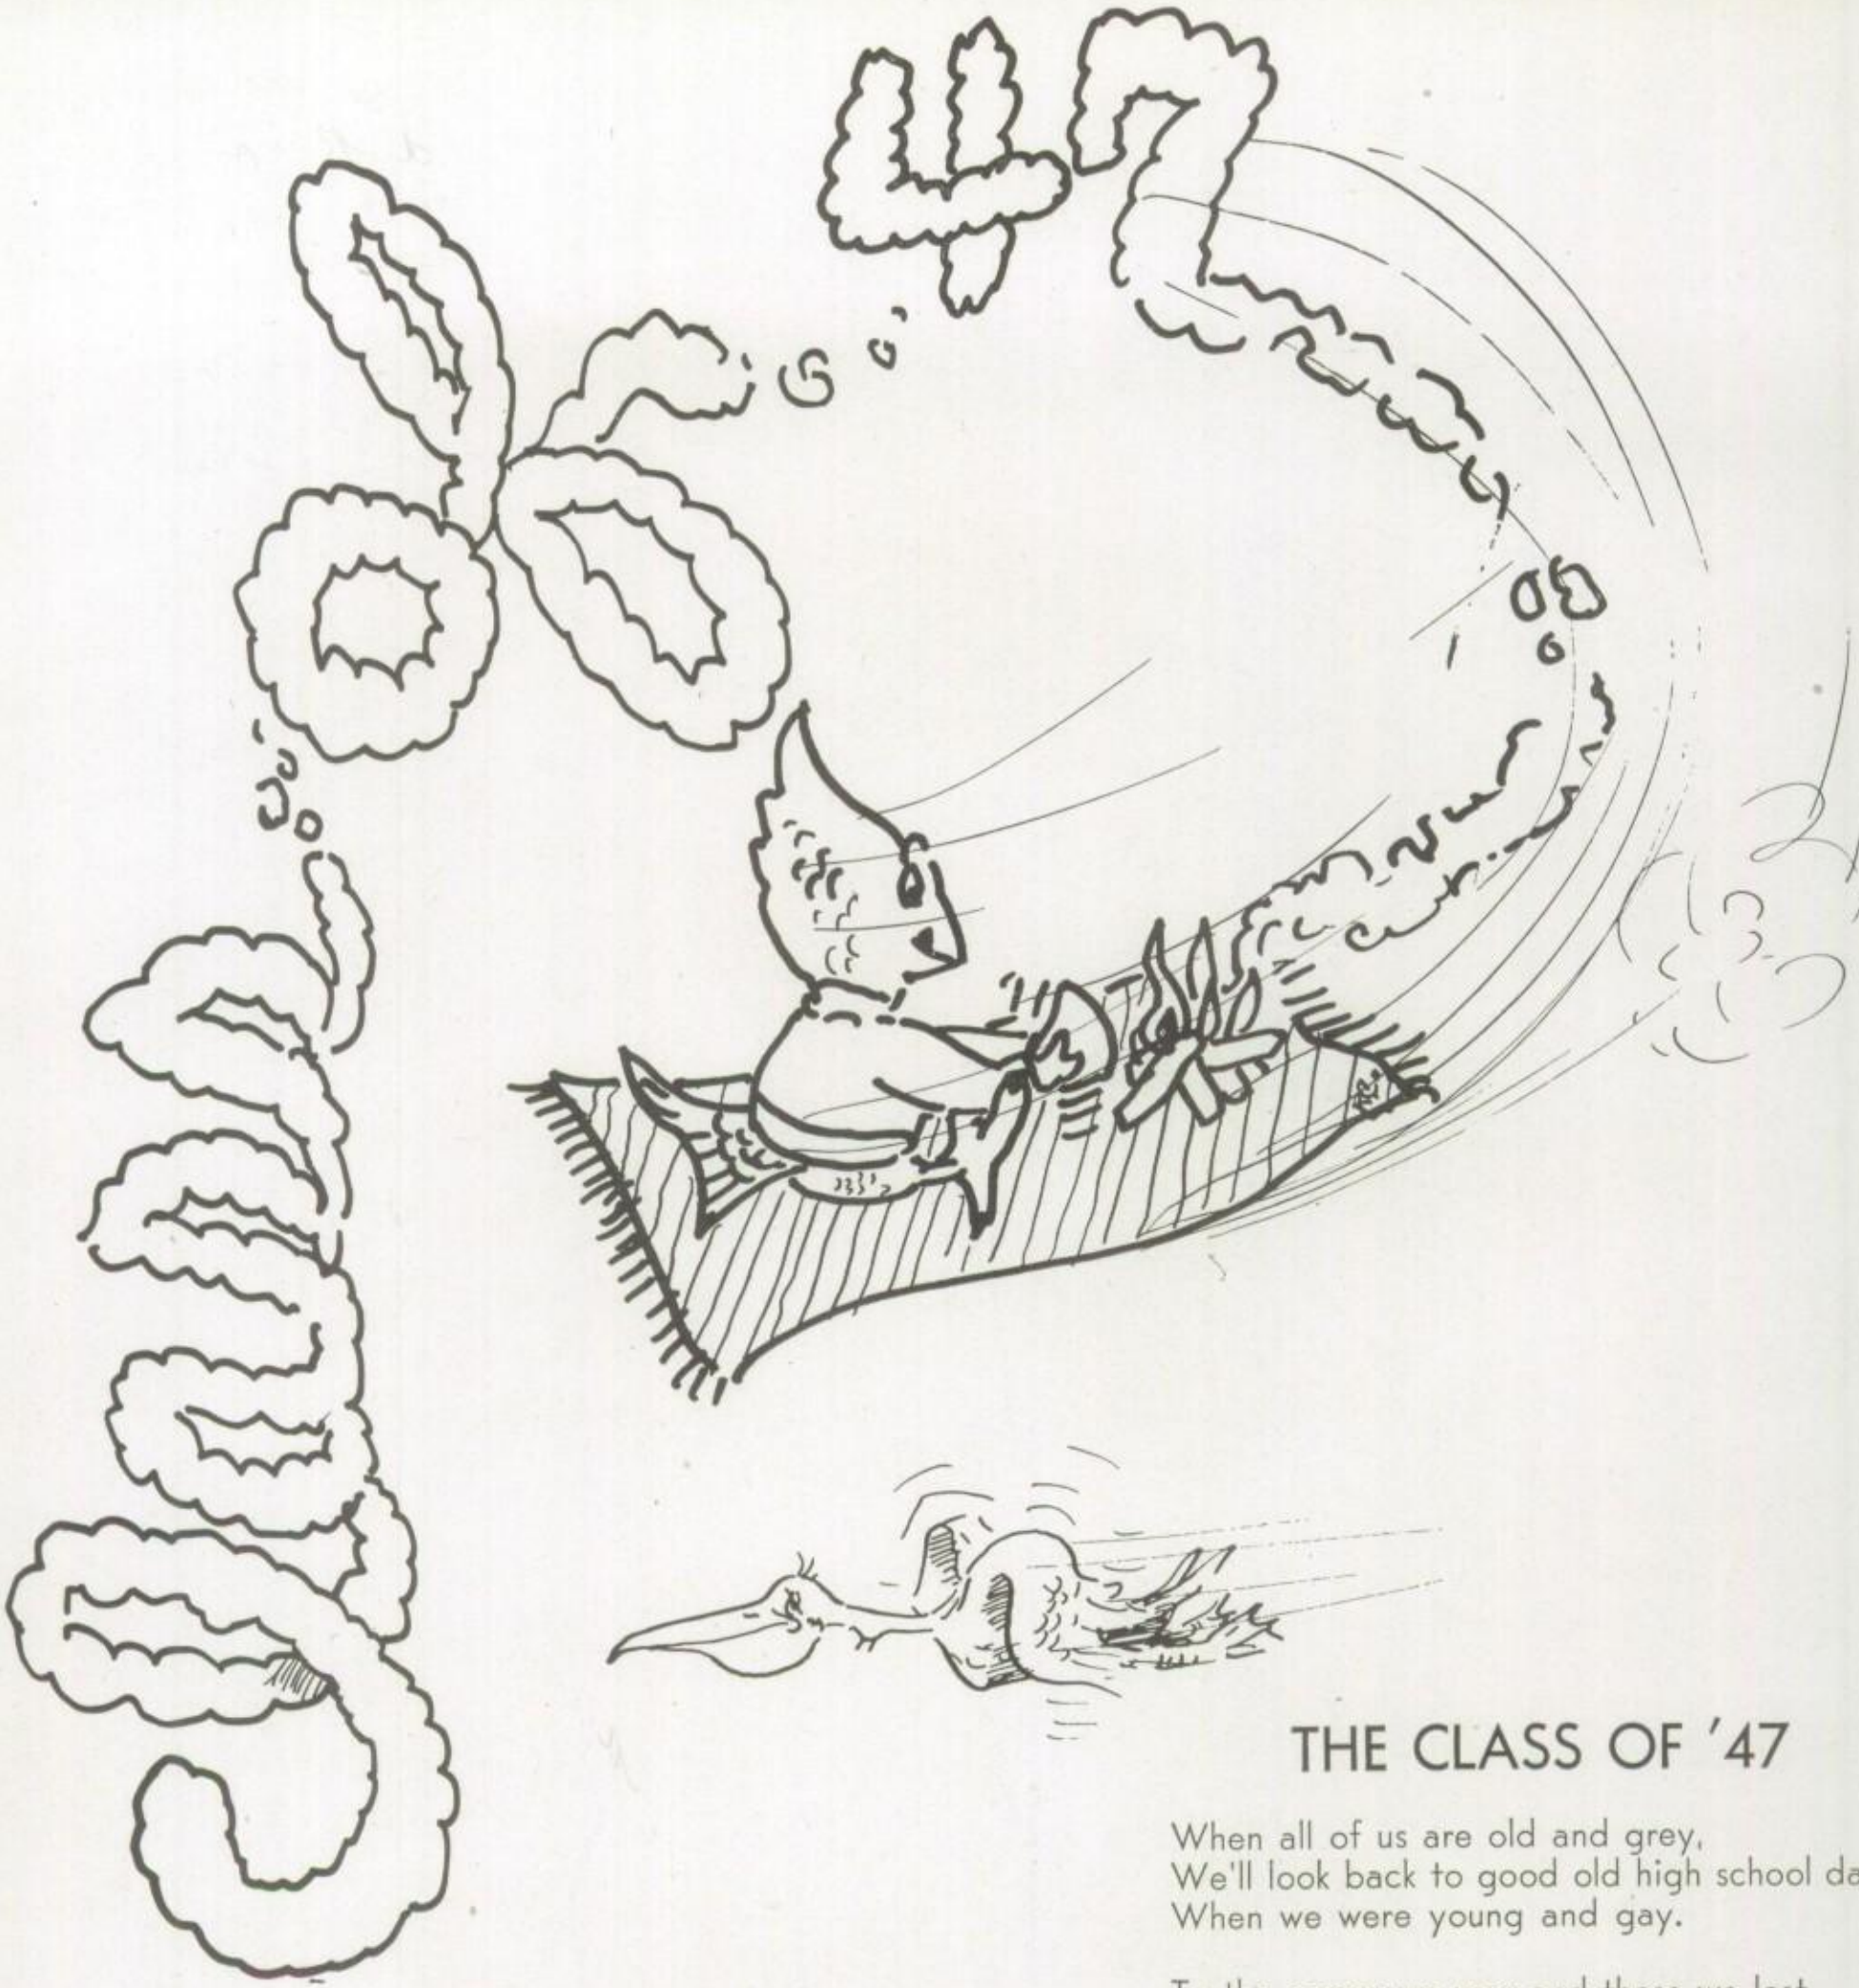
Good luck

Helen Cerny

QUARTERMASTER



RAPHAEL CONTRERAS



THE CLASS OF '47

When all of us are old and grey,
We'll look back to good old high school days,
When we were young and gay.

To the games we won and those we lost,
To the dances that our fortune cost,
And to assemblies where our merry laughter tossed.

To the sophomore shyness when we were new,
Then the junior courage into which we grew,
And at last to senior triumph which we knew.

For the path that high school paved for us,
We owe a debt of reverent thankfulness,
Dear Alma Mater, to you.

SENIOR OFFICERS

Sam Henley
President

To the Senior Class of '47:

We seniors of the summer class of 1947 have tried to set a commendable pattern for future senior classes.

I sincerely hope that the addition to Senior Row will further the progress of seniors through the coming years.

Climaxing a wonderful year in high school with the senior farewell assembly, we leave remembering the wonderful times we had in S.B.H.S. and wishing good luck to our successors.

Sincerely,

SAM HENLEY,

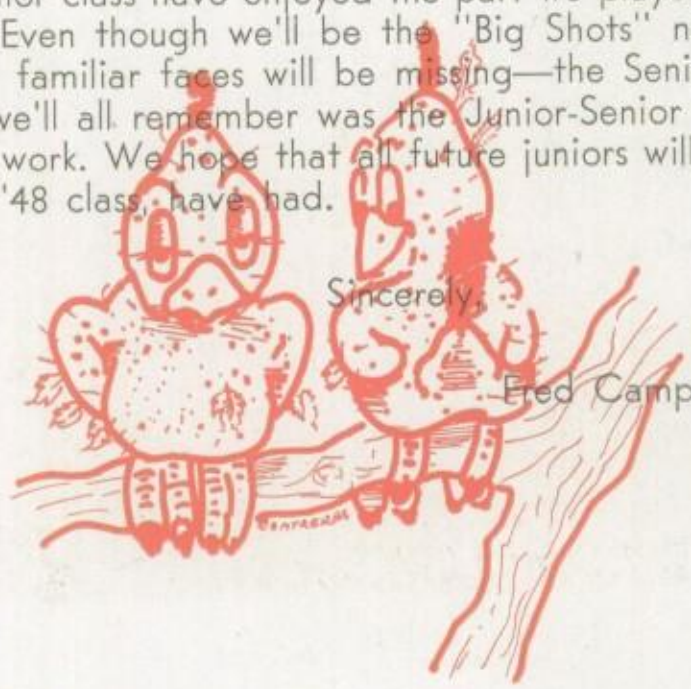
Here we are at the last of the year. Hope you like it. Marilyn

To The Junior Class of '47:

We of the junior class have enjoyed the part we played at San Bernardino High School this year. Even though we'll be the "Big Shots" next year, it won't be the same, because the familiar faces will be missing—the Seniors! The highlight of the year that I know we'll all remember was the Junior-Senior Prom, on which our class really put a lot of work. We hope that all future juniors will have as much fun as we, the juniors of the '48 class, have had.



Sincerely,

Fred Campbell

Miss Mackenzie

Music Department

S.B.H.S. underclassmen found the doors to many extra-curricular activities open to them. Junior Birdmen (Sophs, too!) joined experienced upperclassmen arranging art displays, presenting operas, and participating in a series of events, musical and artistic. Would-be songbirds heeded the call of Miss Mackenzie for singers, performing in special assemblies and programs for the enjoyment of the public as well as the Student Body. If perchance paint and art ran thicker in their blood, cadets then joined in making posters, painting scenes, arranging flowers, and helping fill other artistic needs of the school. Whether they were artists or singers, underclassmen found being active in outside events added color to life at high school.

Solid Grind - - - As We Absorb Our Basics

Miss Dimock

History

In order to know what makes the propeller turn, it is necessary to learn the fundamentals of the mechanism. In the math, English, and foreign language classes our Cardinal underclassmen were solidly informed and instructed in basic subjects, which constituted the parts for their foundation of knowledge. To live successfully in this Air Age it is essential that we possess the equipment of the well-educated. Wihout a good motor, the plane of knowledge would have a hard time taking the difficult flights which a good, sound motor would make easy. In the rooms of S.B.H.S. students had the opportunity to analyze, train, and improve their individual mechanisms. Many Johnny Cardinals have gone forth better fitted for life as a result of their instruction in basics here at S.B.H.S.

Lighter And Brighter As The Arts Come In

Miss V. Brown — Drama

In spite of the steady grind of getting through those solid subjects, some of the Redbirds found time to develop their personal abilities in some phase of the arts. To be or not to be an actor or actress was the question that confronted our young Cardinal drama students. While they pondered, they learned the history of acting and the theater, and were given a chance to prove themselves capable actors or actresses. Venturing among the paints, chalk, and brushes, the Cardinals acquired interests and skills that enabled them to make for themselves a key with which to gain entrance to the world of art. Putting their knowledge to practice, they joined the ranks of many, past and present, who have brightened the halls of S.B.H.S. with their artistic works and who have gone on to take their place in a more advanced field of art.

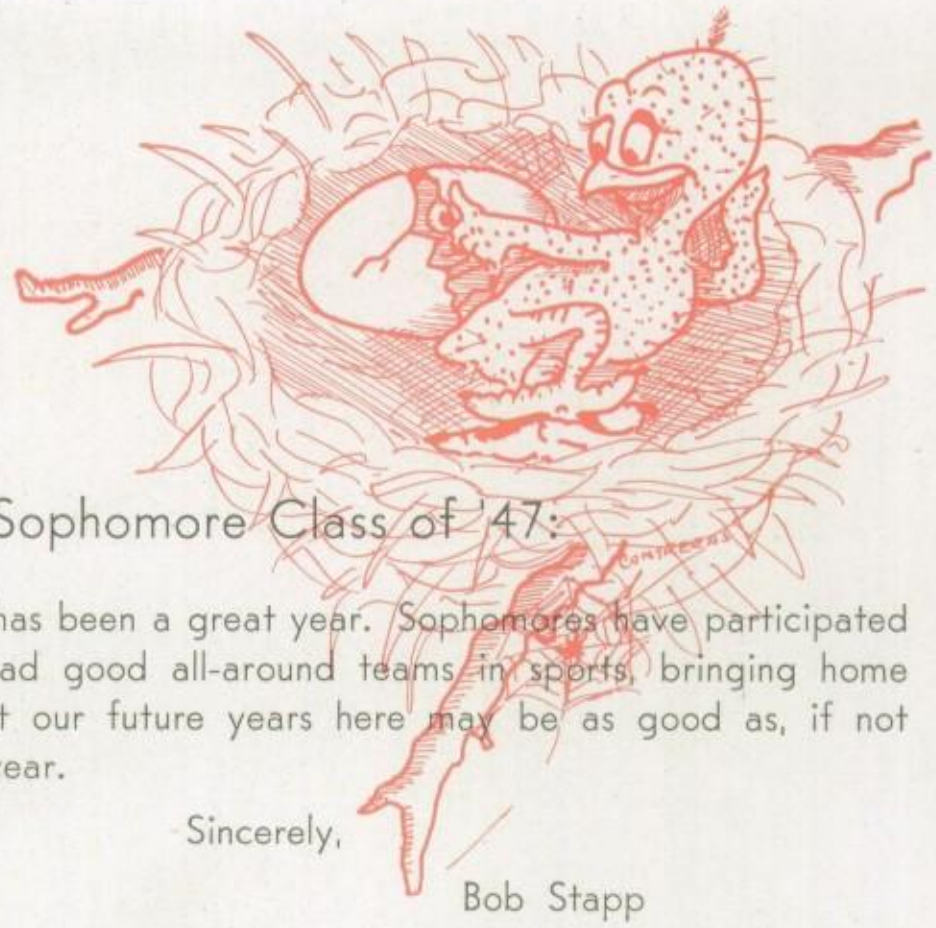
The What And Why Of Things We Know

Mr. Turnbow — Chemistry

It was in their high school classes of science, biology, physics, and chemistry that the Johnny Cardinals, citizens of tomorrow's world, first studied the composition of the earth and its life. Here those who intend to follow up their shaky solo with extensive study received a foundation for future training. Those not specializing acquired skill to help them understand everyday problems. As the years pass, knowledge acquired in a biology class may be used in many unrelated activities; a law or fact learned in physics may be an aid in overcoming a problem which in itself has no visible connection with the subject. Then too, chemistry is invaluable as a good runway for a smooth take-off into medicine, pharmacy, and associated professions. Even the Johnny Cardinals not planning to use the knowledge professionally, found it useful in everyday life.

Bob Stapp
President



To The Sophomore Class of '47:

Our first year at S.B.H.S. has been a great year. Sophomores have participated in many activities and have had good all-around teams in sports, bringing home many victories. We hope that our future years here may be as good as, if not better than, our sophomore year.

Sincerely,

Sewing

As underclassmen of S.B.H.S., students earned passports to the land of good typists. Through conscientious practice they were able to advance and become masters of the keys. They also learned to use their typing skill in writing letters and preparing manuscripts. Potential fashion masters and seamstresses, too, found ample opportunity in these portals to discover and develop their budding genius. Although they studied hard to learn the fundamentals of design, style, and fashions, they also did many practical things. For use at the moment, they made various articles of clothing that were attractive as well as useful.

Pre-Flight

As preparation for entrance directly into occupations, several vocational classes are included in S. B. H. S.'s educational program. Here, in their respective electric, machine, wood, metal, paint, and auto shop classes, future mechanics, painters, electricians, and carpenters are trained. As preparation for work, students take subjects such as pre-flight, vocational agriculture, and mechanical drawing. Johnny Cardinal had his chance in those classes to acquire the basic training for his chosen vocation. Electric shop students learned to get the good out of sharp-tongued electricity without the accompanying shock that other unfortunates received. Some of America's best food producers learned the tricks of their trade in the agriculture classes at S.B.H.S. Pre-flight was instrumental in getting Johnny to keep in step with the times, to prepare for the take-off, and to take his place in the air age of today.

"What you are to be you are now becoming" is the motto of the Girls' League. Each year the G.L. cabinet tries to plan a series of activities that will stress this motto. The main programs of interest to the girls this year were a series of talks by past graduates of S.B.H.S. on vocations that are open to young women. At Christmas time the League fixed food baskets for needy families in the city.

LEAGUE

In February, the G.L. cabinet enjoyed a Valentine's party at the home of the adviser, Miss Alverda Hertzler. In the spring, the League held a lovely Mother and Daughter Banquet in honor of the American Girl and her court.

Under the presidency of Bonnie Lou Irwin and the assistance of her cabinet, the Girls' League had a very successful year, a year of events that will be recorded as a year to remember.

"HER BATHING SUIT NEVER GOT WET"

If you want to know who the "LaBoas" are, just look around Balboa and Laguna during vacation. There you will see the members sprawled lazily on the sand laughing and joking together.

With the opening of school they become a social club, specializing in lots of swell social affairs, where everyone has fun, including the sponsors, Miss Catherine Livingston and Miss Helen Gleason.

SOBOBANS

An honor that every high school girl wants to attain is becoming a member of the Sobobans. The members of this organization must be outstanding in scholastic ability, have leadership, ability, and good citizenship. Lots of fun is to be had as well as honor. If you want to hear more about their mountain parties and picnics, just ask Shirley Day, the president, or Mrs. Poss, club sponsor.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE

Under the sponsorship of Frank Juleff and the presidency of Don Carey, the National Forensics had a very successful year. In order to attain the honor of membership in this club, each student was required to participate in debates, radio work, and speech competition with other schools. After membership was attained, the students had four degrees to work for: degrees of merit, honor, excellence, and distinction.

CARDINAL FORSENICS

Participating along with the other members in the many activities of the Cardinal Forensics Organization were Ted Nichols, the president, and Mr. Weeks, the club sponsor. This organization had a very successful year, crammed full of social gatherings, speech contests, programs, and parliamentary procedure instruction. Any student who has participated in some type of forensic work is eligible for membership.

AEOLIANS

The Aeolian Club, composed of musicians and music lovers, is one of the most popular clubs in S.B.H.S. Membership is attained by being musical-minded and by having a desire to promote good music in the school—Oh yes, a grade of C average is required, too. Cleo Rice headed the club this past season, while the sponsorship was handled by Martha Alice Mackenzie.

USHERETTES

Attired in neat uniforms of shiny cardinal red, our usherettes directed visitors to their seats at plays, graduation exercises, and other school functions. The girls have done a grand job this past year. Abiding by the old saying, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," the usherettes sponsored some really grand parties, where they saw that everyone enjoyed himself. Holding the chief executive position was Shirley Willis, who worked with the sponsor, Mrs. Vaughn, to make the club a success.

Local Honor Society

When report cards came out, some Johnny Cardinals were very thrilled to learn that they had enough A's and B's to become members of the San Bernardino Scholarship Society. Besides enjoying the prestige of belonging to the club, the members participated in several excursions planned by David Drake, president, and Miss Preston, who willingly gave her leisure time to sponsor the club.

California Scholarship Federation

A member of the California Scholarship Federation must obtain ten points from curricular studies or eight points from extra-curricular activities. Boosting the club this year was president Don Cyrog, assisted by Miss Steinberg as sponsor. C.S.F.-ers headed a very worthy drive this year for the Holland Relief Fund, which brought Trigger to Miss Steinberg and a sum of $168.26 for the children of Holland.

"YOUR MOVE"

You could often hear those words coming from the Study Hall when the Cardinal Chess Club met on Thursdays. To enliven its activities, this group of "intelligentia" sponsored tournaments where there was more expenditure of brain power per second than in any class in S.B.H.S. Elected by the club for president was Glenn Benton, with Joe Colley, the study hall roll keeper, as sponsor.

BOWLING CLUB

Dean, J., Wissler, D., Baldwin, B., Shoots, B., Moore, D., Steeman, M., Toon, B., Cowan, B., Lewis, D., Craggs, L., Warrick, J., Keithly, B., McDermott, H., Person, G., Underwood, J., Morgan, B., Bowling, H., Deweese, P., Sharp, R., Baron, R., Demester, D., Reno, B., Swetkovitch, B., Steeman, C., White, B., Calderhead, J., Cretors, M., Cobb, B., Price, D., Funderburg, B., Burlison, M., Stanley H., Isenberg, B., Davidson, B., Autrey, R., Ayers, B., Menefee, H., Van Frank, C., Craig, L., Garrity, B., Funderburg, J., Geoffrey, J., Shinnefield, M., Brooks, B., Smithson, J., Wray, B., Jackson D., Eastman, C., Smith, M., DelGeorge, A., Johnson, J.

QUILL AND SCROLL

So you want to be a reporter? A good way to get practice is to join the Quill and Scroll. All you have to do is to get scholarship grades and be a Tyro Weekly "student" — that's all. This year Pat Moran headed the club, and Miss Williams sponsored it. To give our newspaper writers of tomorrow practice and experience, the Quill and Scroll published "High School Highlites" in the SUN.

STRIKE!! (I HOPE)

This theme ran steadily through the minds of S.B.H.S.'s bowlers every Thursday afternoon after school. Good-naturedly the eight teams vied for top honors as the league progressed. The necessary down-to-earth stuff was handled by the sponsor, Mr. Funderburg, aided in organization by President Dick Lewis. To help make the league complete, handicaps were used for fair competition. And so the balls rolled and the pins fell — fun for all.

QUILL AND SCROLL

RUPTURED DUCKS

S.B.H.S. has several service clubs, one of the more prominent being the Ruptured Ducks. They helped to watch gates, along with performing many other useful services for the school. Rea Smith held down the job of sponsor, while Dick Lewis had the presidency. Besides their regular meetings in the Paint Shop, the Ruptured Ducks had several good parties this year.

ANZAC CLUB

When you heard the banging of the gavel at the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday nights, it was Joe Egelhaaf calling the Anzacs to order. This service club aided the school throughout the year by giving its help wherever it was needed. At regular meetings members sometimes competed in various sports events against other Hi-Y clubs. To keep the club spirit aroused, the members had several hilarious parties. Mr. Harry Boettcher gave his assistance as club sponsor.

THE NOMADS

Another of the popular Hi-Y clubs this year was the Nomads. The fellows got together every Wednesday night at the "Y," where Bill Reed, president, called the meetings to order. The members arranged parties and sports events of their own, besides sharing their interests with the other Hi-Y clubs. All in all, the boys had a very successful year, including volley ball games, basketball tournaments, and swimmings meets.

CARDINAL SCRIPTORES

To further an interest in writing is the purpose of the Cardinal Scriptores. The members of this organization put out the Cardinal Scriptorian, a magazine to which the students make contributions of original writing. There are two ways to become a member. To be an associate member you simply have to have an interest in writing. To be a full-fledged member a student must have some of his writing published. George Hobkirk was the club's very able president this year, working with the sponsor, Henrietta Holland.

South America, Take It Away

Understanding our South American neighbors was the goal of every member of the Pan-American Club. Throughout the year, under the presidency of George Sterling and sponsorship of Miss Elsie Haselwood, the club members enjoyed themselves at parties and social events, as well as at regular meetings, where they discussed the social and economic problems of our South American friends.

HI-TRI

"To face life squarely, to give and do our best," is the motto of the Hi-Tri. This organization is affiliated through the school with the Y.W.C.A. Hi-Tri has done some very fine service work for the community and has sponsored many dreamy dances for the high school students. Mary Margaret Freeman headed the club as president this year, and Miss Helen Gleason was the school sponsor for the Hi-Tri organization.

THE HUDDLE

A religious organization which every High School student should belong to is The Huddle. The meetings are carried on in a very interesting way with various speakers giving inspirational talks. The members met at the Brush Studio, where Dorothy Hemminger called the meeting to order every Tuesday of the school year. The Huddle sponsored a very worth-while assembly, and also had many gay affairs for their amusement.

PEP CLUB

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Purgson, Helen Smith, president, and the rest of the Pep Club members did their share toward arousing school spirit in S.B.H.S. You no doubt noticed the attractive goal post decorations at football games, but did you ever wonder who gave their leisure hours to make them attractive? It was some of the members of the Pep Club. Besides decorating the goal posts, the Pep Club members worked on other school activities.

The Senior Social Club is one of the many social clubs of S.B.H.S. Among the many activities of the year was a dance held at the Municipal Auditorium at Thanksgiving. This year the club was sponsored by Mrs. Brown, who helped them plan most of their dances and parties. Esther Gamboa, president, presided over the club for the year of 1946-47.

GIRLS' JUNIOR LEAGUE

Once a month you would find the Girls' Junior League dining at one of the well-known restaurants in San Bernardino. To make the evening complete, a program was presented by various speakers and entertainers. Informal meetings were held at the girls' houses, where the motto was, "Come as you please." When not sponsoring school affairs, the girls relied on parties of their own for entertainment. The League had two perfect sponsors this year, Mrs. Thayer C. Cline, and Miss Alverda Hertzler, who advised the president, Betty Stapp, on various problems which arose throughout the year.

KEY CLUB

Lunch hour on Thursdays was the meeting time of the Key Club. The place was the Girl Scout House. No, the Key Club members aren't girls, but members of a boys' service club. At all sports events the members were in charge of programs, so if you didn't get one, you can blame John Oehl, the president, or their sponsor, Mr. Keck. The members of the club are a swell bunch of fellas everyone should get to know.

STORKLUB

If you saw a bunch of boys leaving the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday nights, they were the members of one of S.B.H.S.'s most lively clubs, the StorKlub. Headed by "Curly," alias Griff Thomas, this year's president, the "Storks" sponsored the Sophomore Reception at the first of the school term, took tickets at all of our home games, and had several super affairs of their own. Directing the boys were Paul Fritz, Sr., and Webster Hall.

SCORPIONS

The Y.M.C.A. was the place, the night was Wednesday, and the club was the Scorpions. Yes, the Scorpions formed another of S.B.H.S. "Y" clubs. Scorpions entered basketball tournaments and many other sports events, which proved very popular with active boys on the campus this year. Leading the club in the presidency was Wally Thompson, who worked hard and deserves a lot of credit.

SING, SING, SING

Although, the Cardinays didn't get started at the beginning of the year, almost everybody in S.B.H.S. heard about this lively male chorus. Enthusiastically leading the group this year was Jerry Howard, who, with the help of Mr. Ingli as sponsor, helped with all musical programs put on by the school. Cardinays did their part in "H.M.S. Pinafore" and "Pirates of Penzance," in addition to carrying on their regular club activities.

SCORPIONS

TROJANS

"Oh, we're proud of our white and our green!" Such a statement as this could easily be the theme of the Trojans, a popular "Y" Service Club on the S.B.H.S. campus. The boys are identified by their outstanding white and green jackets. Trojan Hi-Y meets each Wednesday at the Y.M.C.A. This year, with Shelby Jernigan as their president, the boys enjoyed such activities as swimming, boxing, and basketball, and also served others where they could.

CARDINAL THESPIANS

The first rung on the ladder reaching to the National Thespians Society is the Cardinal Thespian club. All you have to do to join this organization is to participate in some minor way in a play. During the past year the Cardinal Thespians worked with the National Thespians, presenting plays and shows and furthering their interest in drama. Andy Guy headed the organization, which was under the sponsorship of Miss Verna Brown.

NATIONAL THESPIANS

Anyone who is interested in drama has one goal after he gets in high school—to become a National Thespian. To attain this honor a student must have played at least one major role in a play. Working on assemblies and presenting radio shows and plays, the National Thespians enjoyed a very successful year under the leadership of Andy Guy and the sponsorship of Miss Verna Brown.

SEAL BEARERS

This year S.B.H.S. was privileged to have fourteen Seal Bearers in its student body. It is a great honor to be a Seal Bearer, and the only way the "coveted lamp" can be attained is through hard, earnest work. All of our Seal Bearers are presented with life membership pins in the California Scholarship Federation. The C.S.F. pin, which is a Roman lamp, symbolizes wisdom and liberty. This year's Seal Bearers were guided through their activities by their sponsor, Miss Helen Gleason.

TYRO

So we were putting out a year book! In September things looked rosy. We had fun. We met our deadlines. The pictures were marvelous. With little difficulty, Beth completed the Faculty Section, the first in our book. Next came a drive on Underclass. Cleo, ably assisted by Barbara, brought this campaign to a successful conclusion. In the meantime, John, Don, Joe, Dave, Dick, and Steve were covering games. Before Christmas, after assigned deadlines had been met, the staff relaxed for an afternoon. We had a party. After Christmas vacation, work began anew. Donna and Serena had to assemble Snaps and Organizations and Activities.

ANNUAL

They did. Then came the completion of the seniors. Gorgette, after many after-hours' complications, had all Seniors at the printer's offices on time. April 11 came much too soon, but the book was ready on time. Now the staff can relax, and take a breather before starting the big task of helping Nancijane and Mary Margaret distribute the books at the end of the year.

These two business managers have worked hard in keeping the business matters for the Annual straight. The staff is looking forward to planning next year's book with eager anticipation.

The average week for the Tyro Weekly staff is a very busy one, full of hard work and concentration on putting out our school's weekly paper.

Monday finds the Tyro staff in its weekly staff meeting. Editor "Pete" usually presides, and each staff member names his story contribution to the paper for the week.

Tuesday is the deadline for all front page and sports material. If you pass by the Tyro room, you can hear the pounding of typewriters and the buzz of voices; everyone's rushing to meet his deadline.

Wednesday and Thursday are spent completing the second and third page material.

The entire Student Body owes a great deal of thanks to this year's Tyro Weekly staff. They have done a marvelous job in bringing news of school events and activities to all of the students and faculty.

Hello Dance

"BOO"

The night was dark and spooky; ghosts and goblins were flying; the Y.W.C.A. was also dark and spooky; the students of S.B.H.S. were enjoying their Halloween dancing to the swing music of Bill Larkin. It was the Hi-Tri Halloween dance.

Cokes and cookies were served as refreshments to the weary dancers, and the big moment in the evening came when prizes were given for the best costumes.

Sophomore Reception

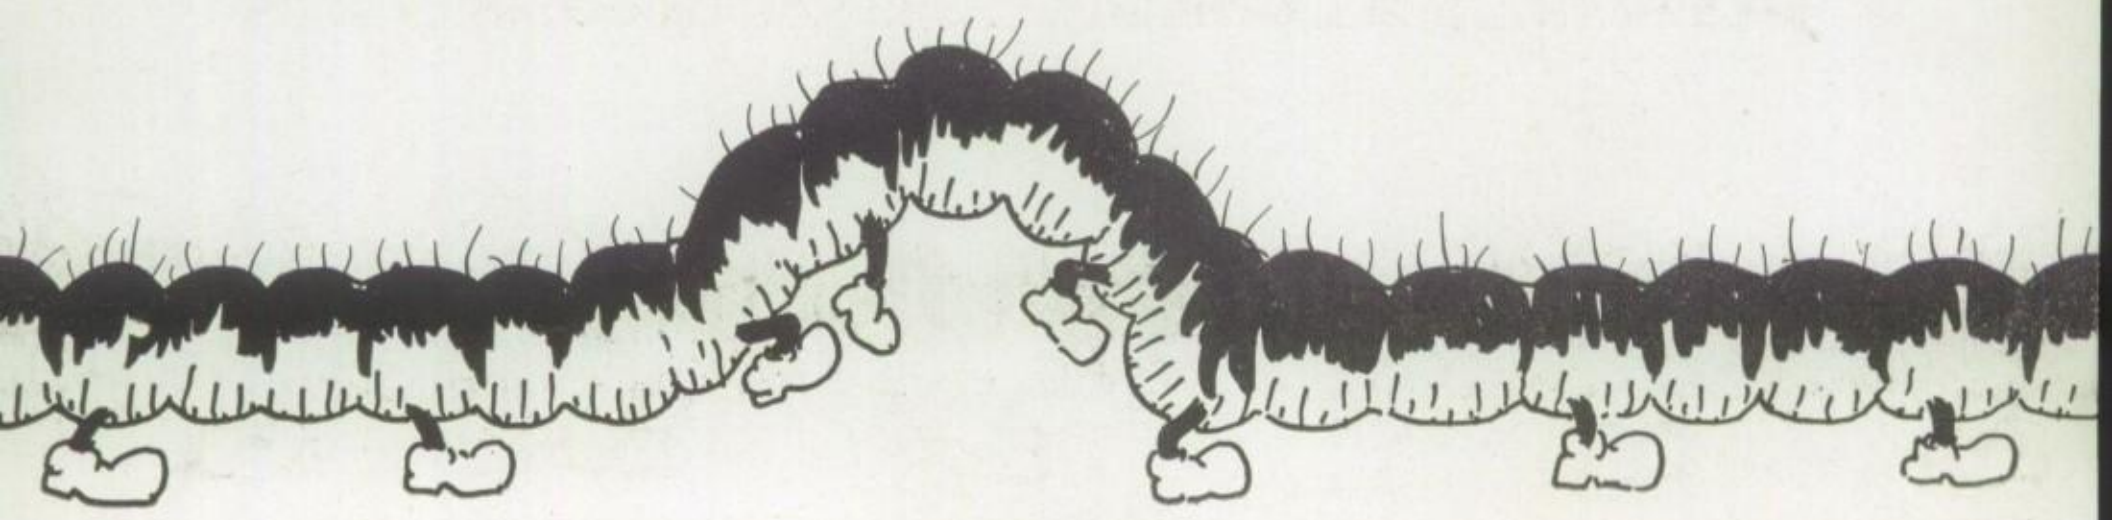
HELLO! THE REDBIRDS SAID HELLO!

After a leisurely summer, all the Redbirds came down out of the clouds to the first big dance of the year—the Hello dance. At the Redbird Rendezvous everybody said hello to old friends, and I.D. cards introduced new students. Irvan Stumph and his orchestra provided the hello music.

Boo !

WELCOME, SOPHS!

The atmosphere of our school cafeteria radiated welcome to our entering cadets at this year's Sophomore Reception. B Flats and A Sharps were rendered in rhythmic order by Irvan Stumph and his orchestra. In addition to dancing, there was a short and sweet program by the students. Like the cherry on a sundae, came the selection of Faye Weller, Sophomore Queen (center). Serving as her attendants were the runners-up: Suzanne Wall, Nancy Lounsbury, Sue Sandall, Sylvia Farrar, Patty Sieck, and Nancy Riddle.



S-O-O SMOOTH!

The routines of our snappy pom-pom girls answered to this description. Adding sparkle deluxe to games and assemblies, this colorfully-clad team stepped in perfect rhythm throughout the year. May we introduce, bedecked in their customary finery, Lois Craig, Mary Cretors, Mary Hill, Pat Weddell, Beverly Busby, and Bonnie Irwin, looking as charming as usual.

MAJORETTES

A very familiar sight at the football games was the dazzling majorettes. These girls added much color and spirit to the games by performing during the half-time activities. Here they are in a typical pose, high-stepping in their colorful costumes: Mary Lou Santolucito, Doris Gooden, Doris Burns, Ann Chilcott, and Jadine Kashka.

This lively quintet, whom we got behind with all our pep, added a vivid element to the year's activities. Here they are: Shirley Ewers, and her helpers, Rita Baichly, Serena Alexander, Chuck Herbert, and Norm Kaplan.

SADIE HAWKINS

STUDENT CONGRESS

The Student Congress is composed of students elected from the second period classes. The students meet twice a month to discuss ways of improving the school and to consider new activities to make S.B.H.S. a more interesting place. Led by Ralph Contreras, who was supported by Speaker of the House, Albert Davies, and advised by Clark Ingli, the Student Congress helped boost student activities during 1946-47.

KOTTON AND KORD

SADIE HAWKINS

On February 28 a very odd thing took place at S.B.H.S. The girls chased the boys. No, it wasn't leap year; it was Sadie Hawkins day. That Friday night all the best dog patch styles were displayed at the very successful dance held in the school cafeteria. Chuck Croft and his Mellow Airs played many numbers to suit the occasion.

KOTTON AND KORD

Spring started a little early at Hi-Tri this year, for the "Kotton and Kord" was held three weeks before the official opening of spring, but the night was warm and all the girls traded their sloppy sweaters and plaid skirts for cotton dresses. The couples danced to the mellow music of Ervin Stumph and his orchestra.

Salute to His Majesty's Ship

"The H.M.S. Pinafore," a Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera, was presented during the spring by Miss Martha Alice Mackenzie. The main characters in the operetta were Allen Goodwin as Captain Corcoran, Jo Anne Snell as Buttercup, Cleo Rice as Josephine, the captain's daughter, and Paul Rutgers as Ralph, the lowly sailor. The school orchestra, under the direction of Herman Johnson, played the accompaniment for the operetta.

JUNE MAD

The house lights dimmed, and the curtain was raised on the first act of "June Mad," a three-act play directed by Miss Verna Brown. The play was a light-hearted comedy about a teen-age girl who fell in love with a college man. Included in the cast were Jocelyn Cook, Chuck Young, and Andy Guy.

If you are interested in learning how to start a good chicken farm or further your knowledge in the agricultural field, join our "Future Farmers." On field trips, or other activities of the club, the members created a love for nature, which will assist them in becoming successful agriculturists. Attending their excursions and affairs were president Darrell Smith and sponsor Mr. Kipf.

The Cards got off to a flying start in the practice openers of the 1946 grid season. Tough opposition and Coach Simpson's capable guidance whipped a group of gridiron fledglings and a few lettermen into a formidable team. Lady Luck misinterpreted Mr. Ingli's remark that he would be satisfied if we beat Pomona by two touchdowns, for the Cards stubbed their toes 20-6 in the C.B.L. opener. Bang up ball handling paid off against the Colton Yellowjackets, and the Redbirds went back into the winning column, ending their second game 14-7. Traveling to Redlands, the Cards ran over the Terrier team 19-0. A capacity crowd watched the Riverside Poly Bears skim through with a 13-12 tally. The game not only chalked up a victory for our traditional rival, but it also shattered all chances of the Cards taking the C.B.L. championship.

S.B.H.S. vs. Colton
Just a little further!

Two quick scores gave the hard fighting Redbirds the edge, but the Bears charged back and marked up the winning tally. With seconds to play, the Cardinals hit close to pay dirt, but the score remained the heartbreaking 13-12. In the League final, the Cards battled the Chaffey Tigers to a 13-13 tie. Seven thousand fans saw the Cardinal line hold up under the powerful Tiger drives which gave them the championship. Although we missed the championship, there is no doubt in our mind that we did have a championship team; in every game they displayed fine sportsmanship, and played good clean football. In the words of Coach Simpson: "Our standing in the league doesn't indicate how close we came to winning the title. Actually the kicking of a conversion made the difference between third place and championship." The '46-'47 football season can be termed nothing short of success.

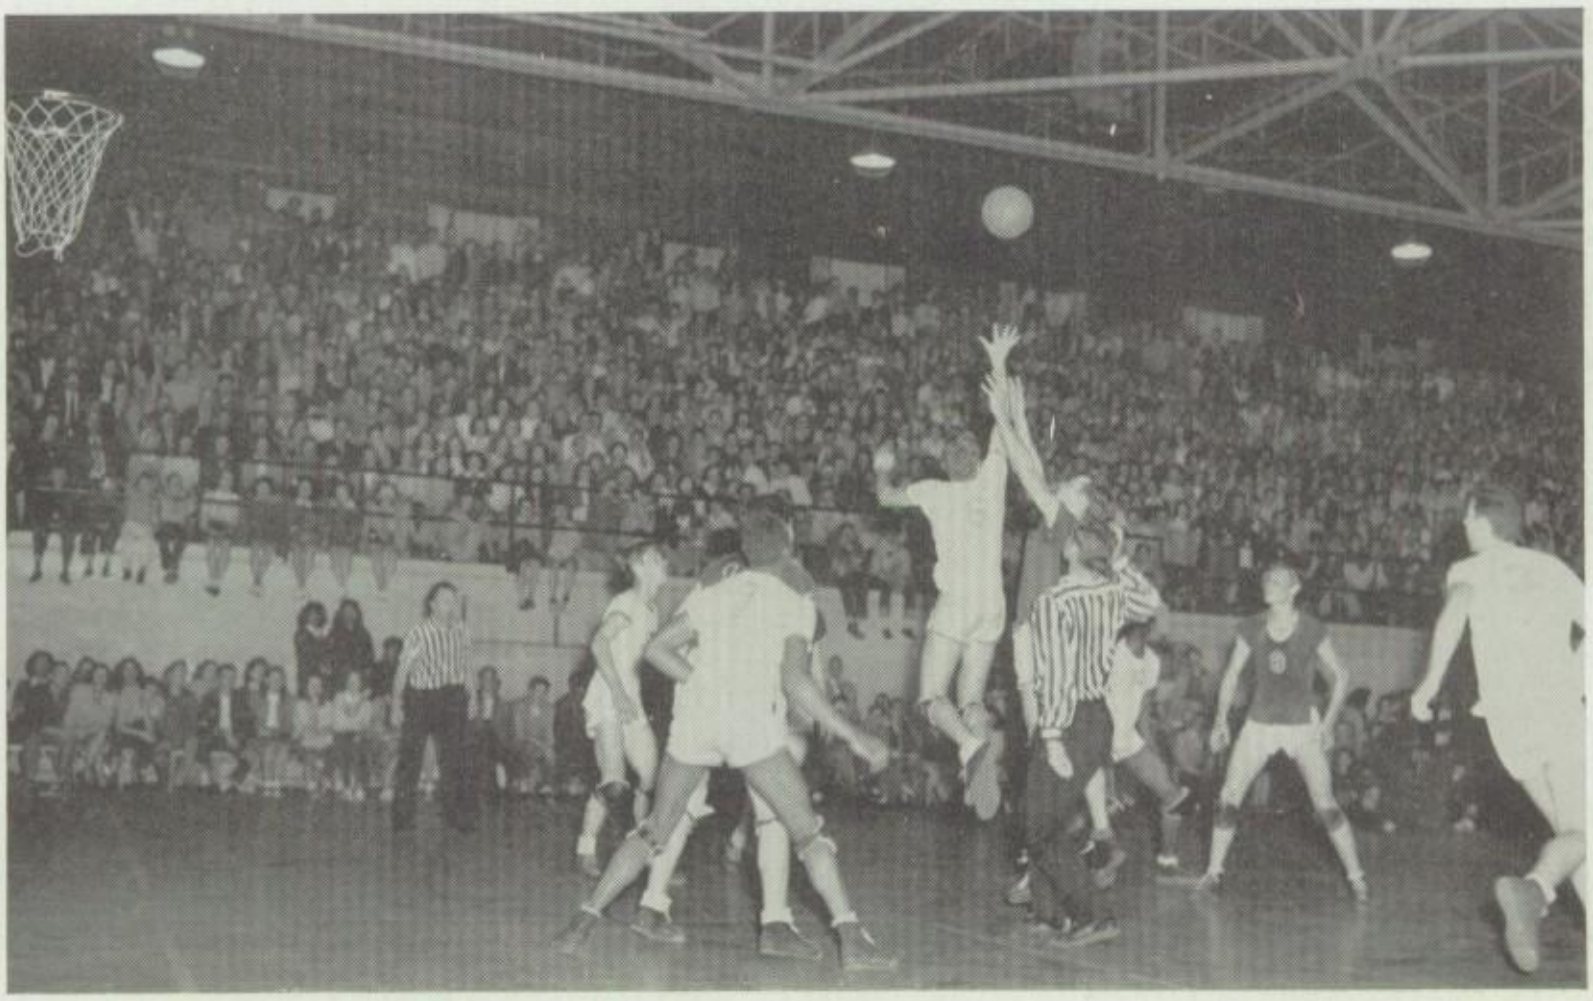
This year's basketball season was one of both thrills and tears. An unfortunate two-game loss marked the beginning of the season. Seven straight victories followed, raising us to second place in league competition. We tied for league honors with Riverside, but in the decisive game an unfortunate upset forced our championship team to second place. A fighting but outclassed and outscored team of San Bernardino cagers were suppressed by Chaffey in their season opener at the Ontario gym. The Riverside Bears came next on our agenda, and the Cardinals made a good showing although they were trimmed by a lucky Bear squad. However, the Cards rallied in the third C.B.L. clash with brilliant floor plays and long shots, to defeat Colton. The Redbirds tangled with Redlands the following week, outclassing the Terriers. Our next stop was Pomona, and our Cards trimmed the Red Devils. Coming first in the second round of play, Redlands fell victim in our sweeping drive for the C.B.L. championship. The Pomona Red Devils were crushed again.

Riverside vs. San Bernardino



Riverside vs. San Bernardino

We were second in the C.B.L. at this point, and all Redbird fans were looking expectantly toward the following three games which would decide our final league standing. Colton fell next to our straight shooting Cards, by a score of 33-31. "33 point Harry" was the title appropriately tagged on Harry Wilson after our clash with Chaffey. This number of digits chalked up by our star center, combined with a fast, hard-fighting Cardinal team, trounced Chaffey. This contest marked the seventh straight game San Bernardino had won in league competition. The championship Riverside game, which was our last and most important in league competition, was a saddening blow to Redbird rooters. Riverside proved a little too fast for our boys, and won not only the game but also the C.B.L. championship. In the words of Coach Fawley, "With Jim Claypool and Harold Wilson, the only returning first string lettermen from its 1945-46 championship team, a squad equal to that of the previous year rounded into shape and made a team that was admirable in every quality."

SWIMMING

Using the facilities of the Y.M.C.A., Coach Norman Fawley undertook the re-establishment of the Cardinal swimming team this year. Supporting Coach Fawley, a large group of enthusiastic swimmers turned out for the new sport, which features many styles of swimming and contest events. So far only a boys' team has been organized; however, a girls' team is in the offing. Despite the fact that swimming has been dropped from the sports curricula for several years because of lagging interest, the sport shows great promise of becoming a permanent part of the S.B.H.S. sporting calendar.

With the cinder season well under way, the Cardinal trackmen had taken all C.B.L. meets and had excelled in all events when we went to press. The pace set by C.I.F. winner Art Garcia and C.B.L. victor Norm Kaplan, and backed by a host of returning lettermen, the Cardinal track team has burst forth to break old and set new records. It is regrettable that our C.B.L. standing and scores for all meets cannot be printed because of the sport's section early deadline, but a C.B.L. Championship victory seems inevitable at this time, with Coach Victor Hodge and his fine athletes well on their way to great achievement and recognition.

BASEBALL

The preliminary games played by the San Bernardino horsehide hurlers have shown that we again have a championship team deserving of praise and student body support. Although we may not win all of our games, the team's showing in the Pomona tournament in defeating Compton, Colton, and Long Beach Poly, then losing in the semi-finals to Point Loma, stamp the defending C.B.L. champions as a team to be reckoned with. Since our league standing and game scores are not available at the time this section goes to press, the best we can do is give Coach Kenny Johnson's prediction: "In C.B.L., competition is keen; all teams being uniformly strong, a close race is in prospect. The Cardinals can be near the top if they show some real spirit."

TENNIS

Making a fine showing at the beginning of the season, the Cardinal tennis team is expected to live up to last year's fine record. With fine doubles teams and equally competent singles players, Coach Ralph Simpson is looking forward to taking the C.B.L. championship. The copy deadline for the sports section in this year's Tyro Annual comes before the end of the tennis season, thus making it impossible for any scores or contest standings to be published. Nevertheless, we feel safe in predicting that our team will make a good showing in both sportsmanship and C.B.L. standing.

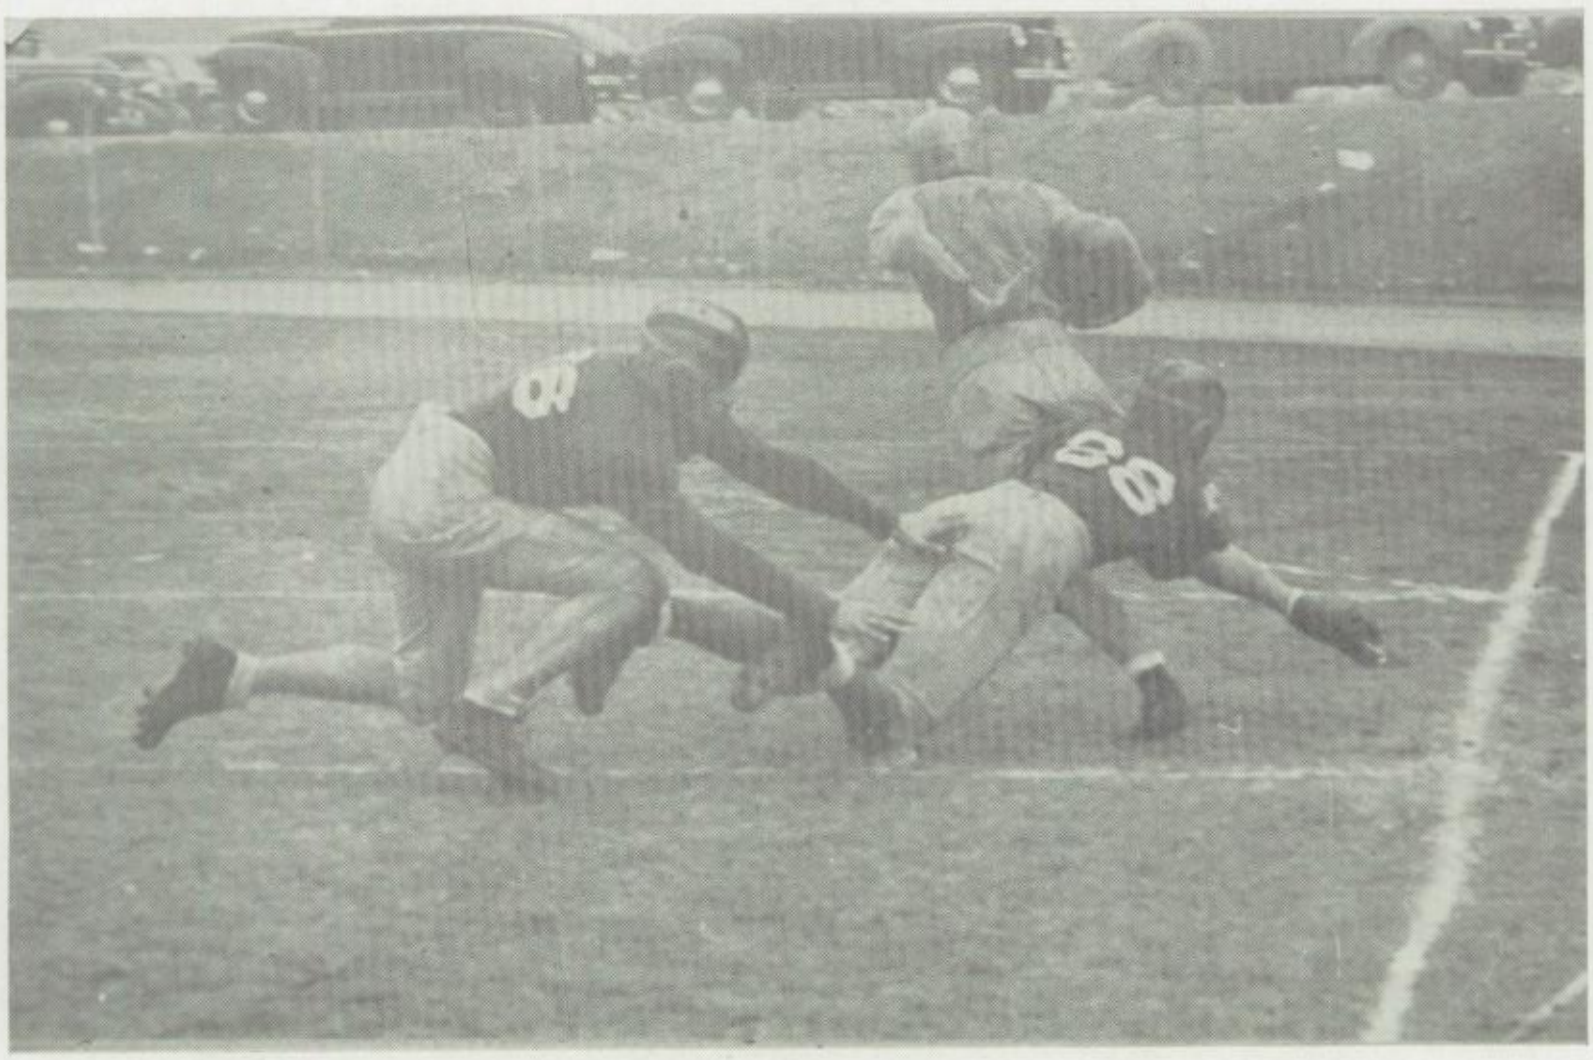
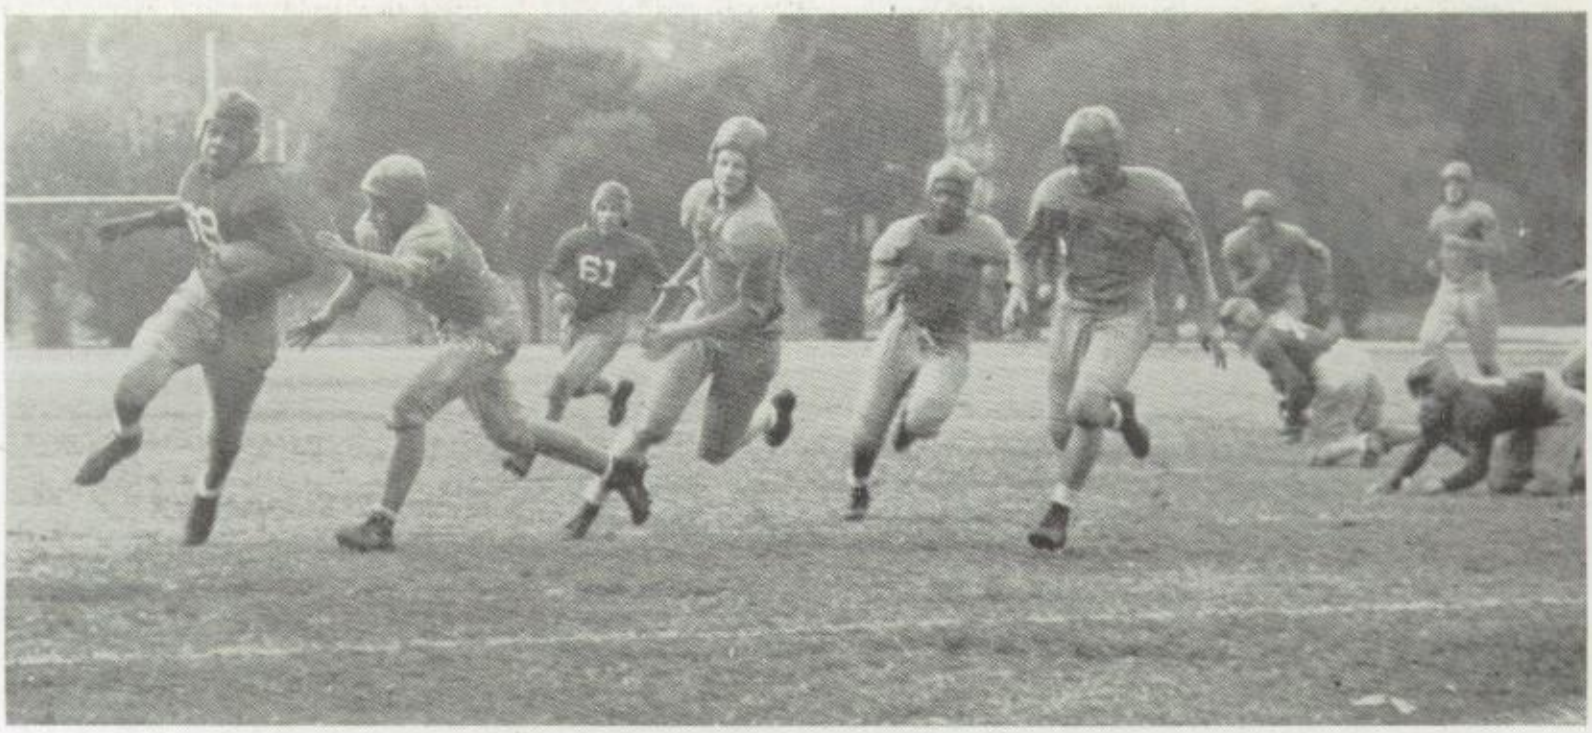
Hit Him Hard!!

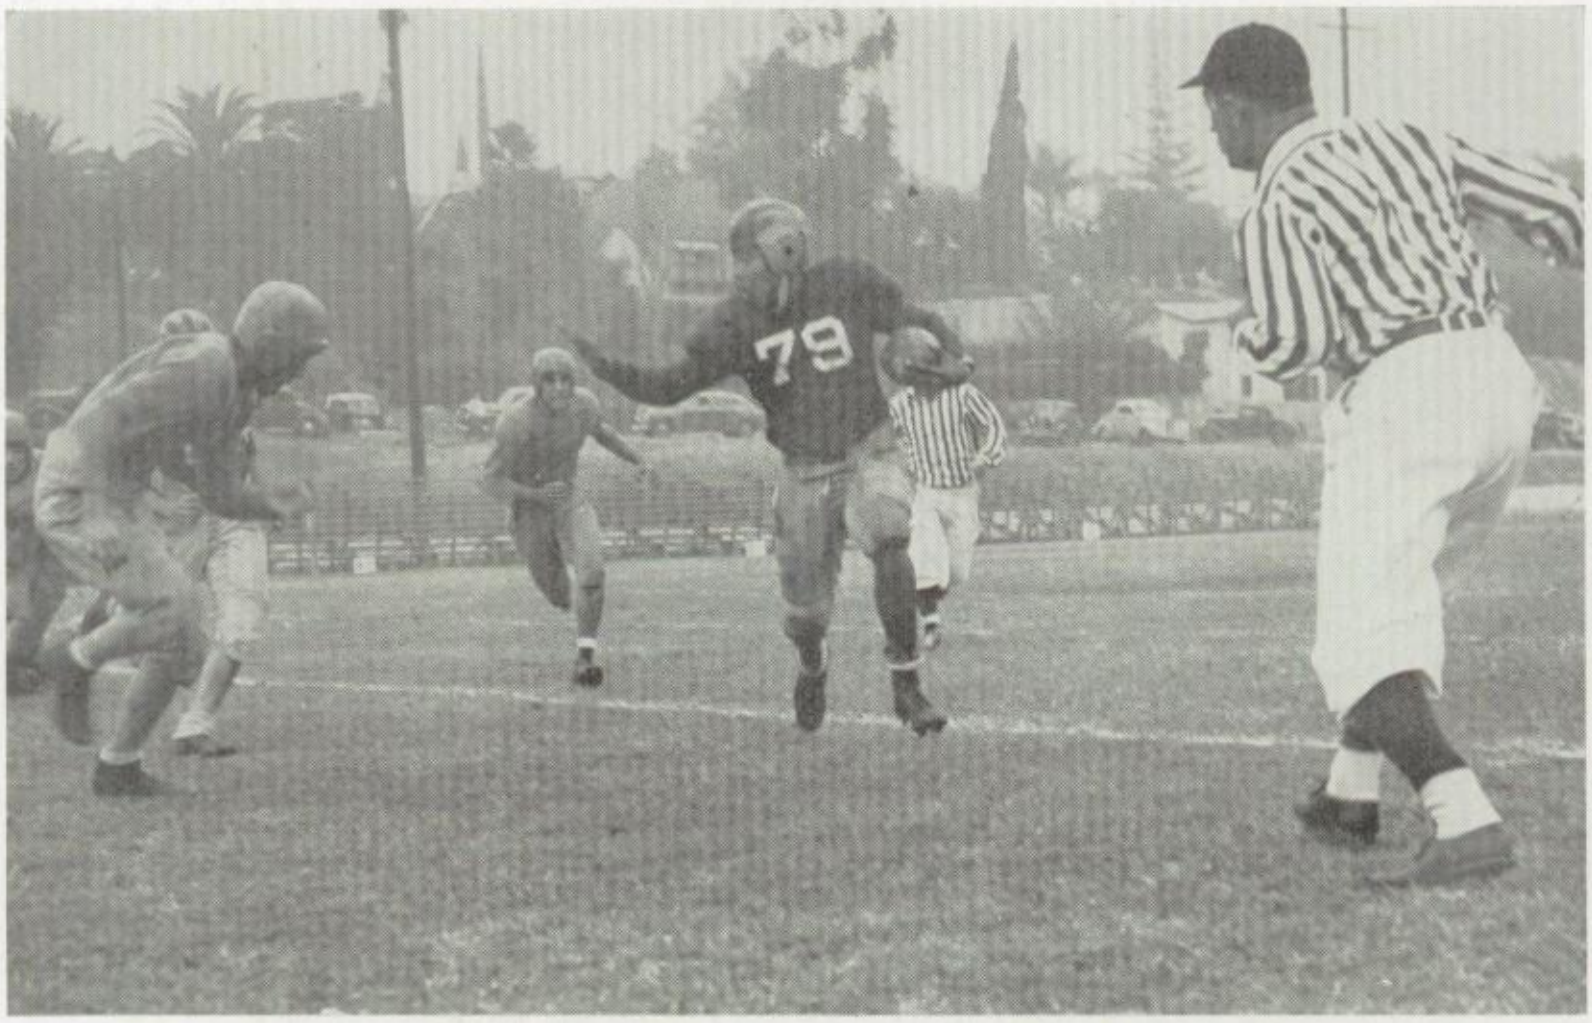




Cardettes vs. Riverside

Living up to the name appropriately tagged on them by Coach Hodge, this year's sophs truly were "unpredictable." Despite a 20-6 setback in the league opener with Pomona, the Cardettes rallied and really went to town against Colton, beating the Hub City sophs by a score of 25-12. The Cardettes did it again the following week when they dropped a reportedly strong Redlands team 26-6. All good things come to an end, however, and the Cardettes' winning streak, though it was not stopped, suffered a severe setback when the Chaffey eleven took the Cardettes for a 19-6 hard-fought victory. Winding up the season with a trip to Riverside, the S.B.H.S. lightweights triumphed over an over-confident Riverside eleven emerging with a tie for second place.

End of the line!



All Together, Now

Coach Kenny Johnson and the entire S.B.H.S. Student Body have just reason for being proud of the fine job done by the Sophomore cagers in the 1947 C.B.L. Basketball season. Win or lose, the Cardettes went through a tough season fighting hard. At the end of the season, the S.B.H.S. light weights came through with five wins and two losses.

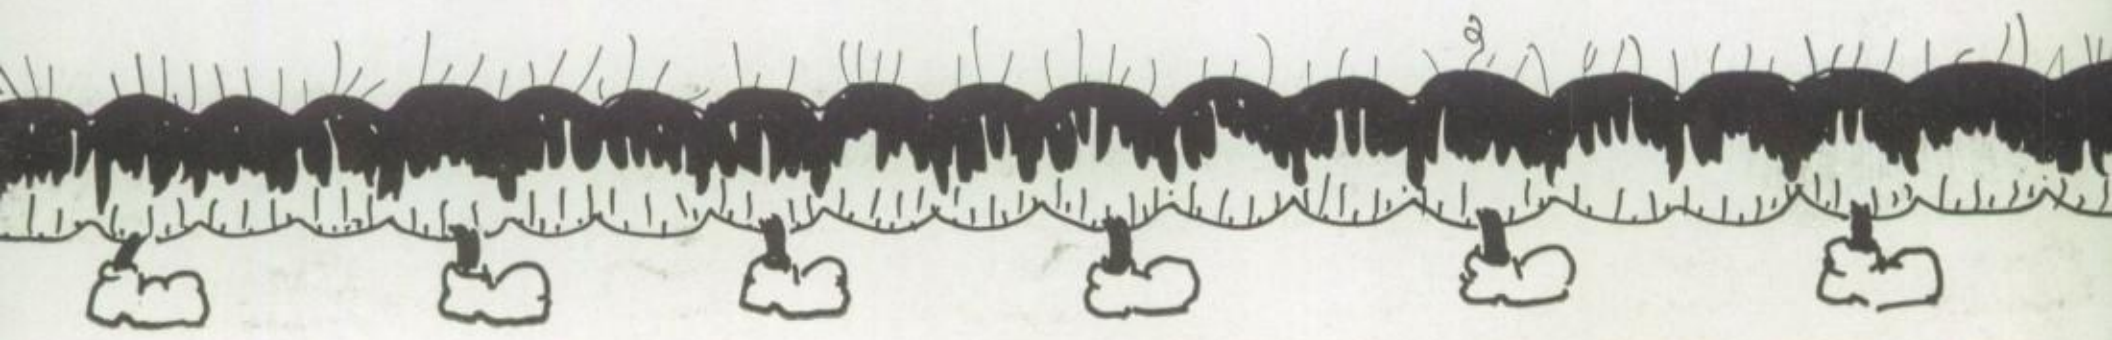
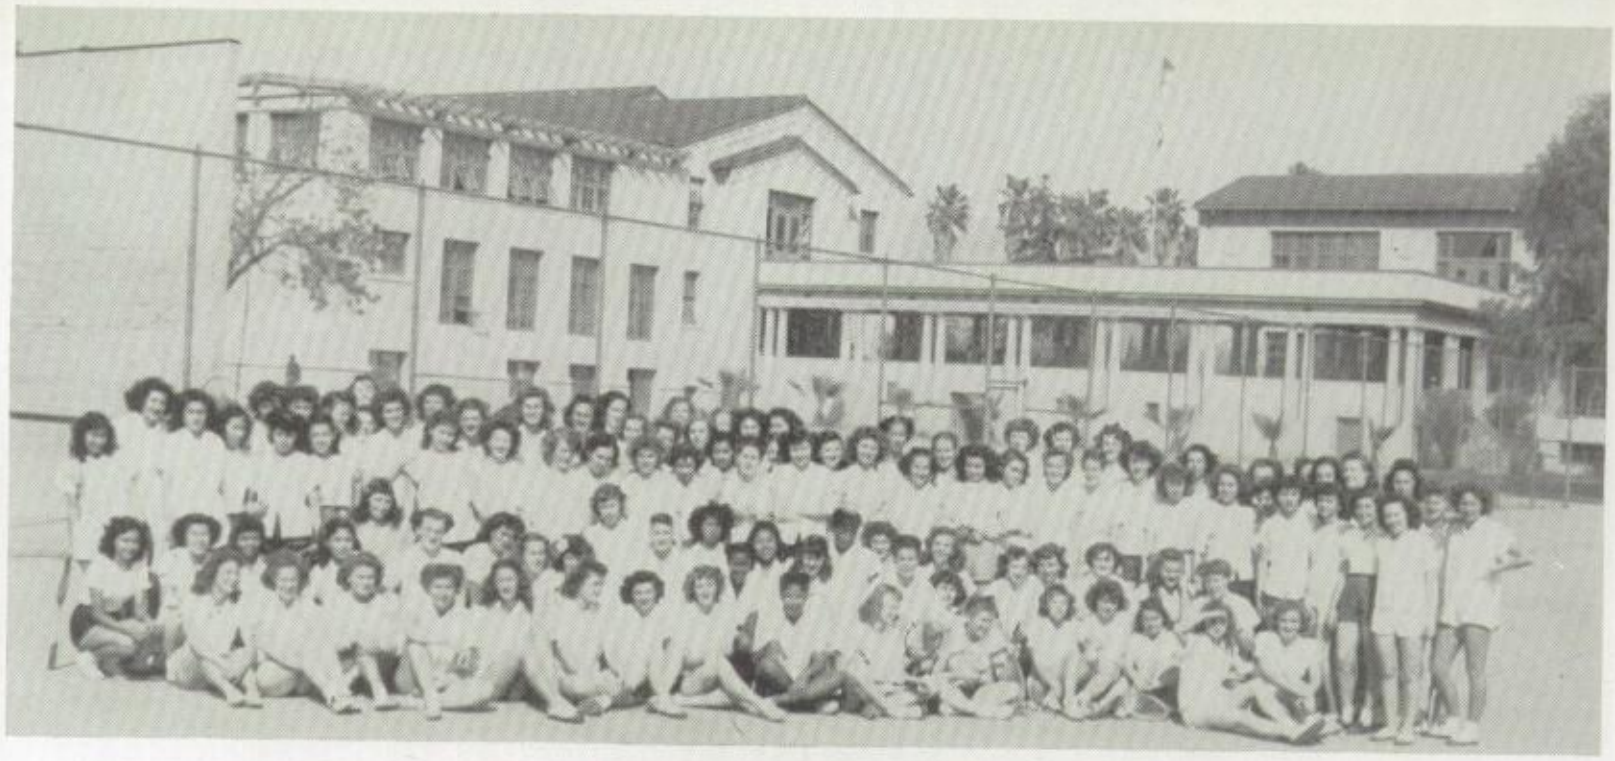
SOHOMORE TRACK

Keeping up with the break-neck pace set by the Varsity track team, the sophomore Cindermen proved their worth in this year's season. With sensational Tim Vanik gathering honors in each meet and Cerci Miles running a close second, the Sophomore track men have taken their share of high places in the 1947 C.B.L. season. Upholding the tradition of the sophomore trackmen, this year's team has trained hard and played fair. Quoting Coach Hodge, "We have a good all-around team which will provide a good nucleus for next year's Varsity."

Another Soph Winner!





Those Who Played

G. A. A.

"Run, run! You can make it!"—"Here I am, throw it!" Similar cries echoed and re-echoed across the grounds of S.B.H.S. each afternoon during sixth period. Of course it was the G.A.A. girls hard at play, taking active interest in their respective games. Basketball, softball, and volleyball were presided over and their players advised by Miss Livingston. The tennis department was ably handled by Mrs. Glass, and the president's gavel wielded by Adrienne Linke. Playing games certainly wasn't the only activity of the lively club. Its parties and wiener bakes were well attended and brought good times to all. Any energetic girl who enjoys team sports would enjoy the G.A.A.

About 42 Tyro's Ago....

the founder of what is now the Fooshee Furniture Co. delivered furniture with a horse and wagon. We'd venture to say (although we didn't take time to look it up) that the entire graduating class of San Bernardino high could have all climbed on that same wagon. Now it takes a fleet of trucks running steadily day in and day out to keep up with business and guessing again we'd venture to say it would take a 10 car streamliner to hold the graduating class of '47.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

With the June of each year comes the distribution of Tyro Annuals here at S.B.H.S. Everyone looks forward with expectant sighs to seeing his picture recorded with all the memorable events of the past year. And so it is with pride and the hope that the entire Student Body will enjoy our book that we, the Tyro Annual Staff, present the "different" '47 Tyro.

I, as editor of this book, realize the work and time each staff member has contributed, and I wish to express my appreciation to each person who helped to make our book. Working with the staff has been grand. With each person contributing his share, the book has been published without many of the usual headaches. Thank you, Miss Holland, for your expert advice and "one-of-the-gang" manner. Without you we would have surely remained in the doldrums of dummy-making. And thank you, too, Mr. Paul, for your good-natured, frank criticism and helpful suggestions throughout the year. Mr. Hennon, we have more than appreciated your patient perusal of our complicated layout.

Also to Mr. and Mrs. Steele of Steele Studios we extend our thanks for making our Senior Section possible and doing all "rush work" which we brought in a frenzy to them. I wish, too, express my thanks to Mr. Ingli, our financial adviser, to Becktold Cover Company for attractive covers, and to the faculty—especially Mrs. Connor Brown—the administration, and again our unconquerable staff. Thank you all!

This year, with the war behind us, we decided to forget for a while the weighty problems of peace which confront us, and choose instead, as the theme for '47 Tyro something light and gay. Thus, "Redbirds in the Air-Age." As our name Tyro suggests, we have also chosen to present something new in our layout—an interesting underclass section. We sincerely hope that the innovations of Tyro '47 will meet with your approval, and that Tyro '47 will stand out as one of the best in your high school memories.

Sincerely,

Lucille Wissburg
